

IDENTITY OF SOCIALIST CANDIDATE IS MYSTERY

Politicians Around Capitol Say They Never Heard of S. C.
Weatherly.

IS RUNNING FOR CONGRESS

Opponent of Montague Has Apparently
Made Little Effort to Gain Votes,
Even Among Those Not Affiliated With Democratic Party.

Weatherly is the name—S. C. Weatherly. Do you know him?

Mr. Weatherly is the Socialist candidate for Congress in this district. And this district polls normally from 150 to 200 Socialist votes.

The identity of Mr. Weatherly is not known to any of the officials or employees of the State government whose offices are in the Capitol or State Library Building. A reporter so discovered when he made a canvass of the offices yesterday. The only result was to arouse the curiosity of the officeholders, many of whom have been in politics five, ten or twenty-five years, and into a general inquiry into the identity of the candidate for Congress whose name has been listed with the names of other candidates for Congress in the office of Secretary of the Commonwealth, James.

Men well informed in the political affairs of the State, city and county were consulted. None knew Weatherly. Walter G. Duke, who has served as secretary of the City Democratic Committee for nearly a quarter of a century, was asked:

"Are you acquainted with Mr. Weatherly, the Socialist candidate for Congress?"

"Never heard the name before," replied Mr. Duke. "What district is he running in?"

Alex B. McCulloch, probably the most widely-known man of the Socialist Labor party in the Third District, was asked concerning the identity of Mr. Weatherly. "I don't know him. He doesn't belong to our party," he answered.

Mr. Weatherly, it was said at the City Hall.

"Sure, I know him," said W. P. Leaman when the question reached him. "He's a tall, curly-haired man, and always carries an umbrella and looks as if he is sure it is going to rain. He comes into my place two or three times a week, and lights his pipe. What do you want with him?" Leaman remembered the next moment that the man to whom he had reference was named Weatherford, not Weatherly.

The enumerators who canvassed the city for the directory compiled and published by Lud Hill's company are unaware of the existence of the Socialist candidate for Congress. The name S. C. Weatherly does not appear in the city directory.

Of the 150 or 200 votes that will be polled by the Socialists in the district majority will come from the neighborhood of Taylor's Crossing, Henrico County. There is a Socialist settlement near Taylor's Crossing, with a population of approximately 300 men, women and children. Next to Henrico, the largest number of Socialists in the district have their homes in Hanover County.

FIRST CONCERT OF SEASON

Richmond Philharmonic Orchestra to Be Heard Thursday Night.

The first concert of the season will be given by the Richmond Philharmonic Orchestra on Thursday evening at the City Auditorium. The program is rather more varied than those of last year showing a tendency toward the lighter and more tuneful compositions, which are at the same time good.

Special interest attaches to the artists who appear as soloists. Miss Clara Bibb, pianiste, and Joseph Whittemore, tenor. This will be Miss Bibb's first appearance with the Philharmonic Orchestra. She is known as one of the city's most promising and brilliant pianists, and will undoubtedly please her audience with the second Mac Dowell concerto, of which she will play the following movements: "Presto Giocoso," "Largo," "Molto Allegro."

Much satisfaction was expressed at the first concert last season, when Mr. Whittemore made his bow to a large audience in Richmond. His rich tenor was a revelation. His delivery was artistic and finished. And his expression was satisfying to a high degree. This season he will be heard again, after a year of study and a summer of rest and recuperation.

Acquitted of Speeding Charge.
Philip Spence, colored, was acquitted yesterday in the Hustings Court of the charge of automobile speeding. In Police Court he had been fined $100.

James Hill, colored, was sentenced to sixty days in jail for petit larceny.

BOOKS OF CHURCH OPENED BY ORDER OF JUDGE SCOTT

Motion of Trustees of Immanuel Baptist
Church, Who Seek to Sell Property
Is Denied.

Judge R. Carter Scott, of the City Circuit Court, yesterday denied the petition of Attorney Isaac Diggs that the books of Immanuel Baptist Church, Fifth and Leigh Streets, should not be open to members of the congregation. It is said that the intended purchasers of the church building are negroes, and there is violent opposition among both members of the congregation and citizens of the neighborhood to the sale of the church to a negro congregation.

As attorneys for the trustees Mr. Diggs applied to Judge Scott on September 12, for authority to sell the building. Certain members of the congregation filed a counter petition, asking that such authority be not given, and saying that it would be against the wishes of the majority of the congregation. Pending a hearing on the matter, Judge Scott ordered that the church books be opened to the congregation so that its members could make definite stand and reply to the trustees in the latter's impending action.

Citizens in the neighborhood protested against the sale on the grounds that the church is near St. Paul's Church Home and an orphanage for white girls at Seventh and Leigh Streets.

"It is difficult," they say, "to understand why there should be such a special effort made to so injure the interest of the white property owners and practically to ruin a district which is now exceedingly desirable on account of its proximity to business, shopping, churches and schools and which is now the home of a large student body of young men and ladies coming to fit themselves for various professions."

Johnny Randall, colored, arrested on complaint of Henrico Farmer. Charged with attempting to hold up and rob A. F. Johnston, a Henrico farmer, a negro describing himself as Johnny Randall, was arrested by County Officer Randall, is being held in the Henrico County Jail to await trial.

Johnston was taken to the Three-Chopt Road late Friday afternoon, when Randall, who was on the wagon, overtook him and asked for a "lift." and Johnston allowed him to board his wagon. When they had reached a secluded part of the roadway, near Deep Run, Johnston, turning in his seat, glanced backward and saw the negro creeping upon him. Randall ordered "Hands up," but instead of obeying Johnston grabbed his passenger and after a strenuous struggle succeeded in hurling him from the wagon. The farmer whipped up his team and at the first opportunity reported the attempted hold-up to the authorities, who soon had the negro in custody.
